

Gastroscopy with Argon Plasma Treatment Discharge Advice

For your procedure today you were either given a local anaesthetic throat spray or sedation.

If you were given a local anaesthetic throat spray, you should have nothing to eat and drink until _____.

If you were given a sedative, you should follow the instructions given below:

Sedation can make you feel drowsy. Rest quietly for the remainder of the day, with someone to look after you for 24 hours as you will still be affected by the sedative drugs.

- It is advisable to have the following day off work, but in any event for the first 24 hours following sedation

Do Not:

- Drive a car
- Drink alcohol
- Take sleeping tablets
- Operate any machinery or electrical items – even a kettle
- Sign any legally binding documents
- Work at heights (including climbing ladders or onto chairs)

Sedation can impair your reflexes and judgement

1. You may have a sore throat for a short time after the test. This is normal, and should pass within a day.
2. During your procedure you were given Argon Plasma Coagulation treatment. This involves the use of a jet of argon gas which is used to destroy abnormal tissue and to seal off bleeding blood vessels. For the remainder of the day you should have a light diet only.

Please note:

As with any test, the results given to you today cannot be guaranteed to be totally accurate, although the endoscopist performing the test has taken great care in reporting what he or she has seen. A copy of the report will be sent to your GP in the next few days however, if you have had biopsies taken, the results could take up to 4 – 6 weeks.
